

BRIDGES CAUSE HEATED DEBATE

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS ASK APPROPRIATION OF $18,250 BUT COUNCIL DETERMINE NOT TO INCREASE LEVY—ELEVEN NEW STRUCTURES ASKED.

ONLY $9,000 IS AVAILABLE

Whether the appropriation for the building of county bridges should be increased or not was the subject of a heated debate this morning among the members of the county council at their annual meeting, held in the commissioners' room of the court house.

Under the usual levy of 5 cents the amount appropriated each year for the building of bridges is approximately $9,000. This year, however, the county commissioners in their estimate for a bridge appropriation, asked $18,250, to be used in the construction of eleven bridges in the county.

In order to raise this amount the council would have to double the levy. This they refused to do, voting to leave the levy at 5 cents.

So the commissioners will have only $9,000 to build bridges this year. As there is one bridge alone that would cost $7,000, among the eleven asked for, several that are wanted cannot be built.

Although the council, during the morning session decided to leave the levy at 5 cents, the matter was taken up again after dinner, by a motion being presented asking that the matter be taken up for re-consideration. On the vote the motion was lost and so the matter stood as decided during the morning.

Immediately after disposing of the bridge question, the general appropriations were taken up. The council allowed the estimates, which amounted to about $67,000 to stand without change. After this the question of which bridges ought to be built out of the $9,000 appropriation was taken up. Eleven bridges were asked.

The county commissioners after learning that their request for an $18,250 appropriation had been turned down, and that the appropriation was fixed at $9,000, prepared a list of the bridges they believed should be built with the $9,000, which list they submitted to the council recommending that it specify that these bridges be built.

The list of bridges according to districts follows:

ALBERT ALBAUGH MADE DELEGATE

LOCAL RURAL ROUTE CARRIER
WILL BE ONE OF STATE'S REPRESENTATIVES AT NATIONAL LETTER CARRIERS' ASSOCIATION CONVENTION.

BIG GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP

Albert Albaugh, the local rural route carrier and president of the Putnam County Rural Letter Carriers' Association, was elected as one of the delegates to represent Indiana at the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association convention to be held at Evansville, at closing session of the state convention here Monday afternoon. There were fourteen delegates elected and the ballots were being counted when The Herald went to press Monday afternoon. The delegate-at-large, President Babcock, was announced Monday.

The fourteen delegates elected to represent the state were: Albert Albaugh of Putnam County; C. H. Blackledge, of Madison; L. M. Onyett of Gibson; G. W. Denius, of Hendricks; Robert Kitley, of Marion; J. E. Gaunt, of Decatur; Rolland W. Barnes, of Shelby; O. C. Woodward of Parker; William B. Morrison, of Wabash; G. W. Bachelder, of Randolph; W. J. Ward, of Hamilton; Edward Brown of Orange; R. L. Scott, of Wayne, and Carl Oberhetzer, of Lafayette.

Following the election of delegates the resolutions as published in Monday's Herald were adopted. A vote of thanks was tendered the Nine O'Clock Tea Club for its hospitality and its efforts in behalf of the visiting rural route men.

The absence of Congressman Ralph Moss, who was scheduled for an address, was regretted. His place was filled by J. T. Clapp, a sketch of whose address was published Monday.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to amend the by-laws of the association to read that members of the executive board hereafter be elected by vote of the delegates rather than by appointment. The amendment was tabled indefinitely.

The report of the auditing committee showed the association to be in good financial condition for the coming year. Last year in Indiana there were eighteen unorganized counties but during the past year this has been reduced to three counties, Boone, Vermillion and Perry, where no organization had been perfected. The report on membership showed 1,354 members in 1913 as compared with 822 in 1912, or a gain of 532.

N. Y. Gynett, of Ft. Branch, reported the railway facilities and accommodations being arranged for the national convention. Fifty-nine of the delegates here Monday afternoon staid their intention of attending.

MUST REPORT TO THE COURT

NEGLIGENT ADMINISTRATORS AND GUARDIANS ARE APT TO GET IN TROUBLE WITH JUDGE
HUGHES IN THE FUTURE.

ATTORNEYS TO WARN CLIENTS

Negligent administrators and guardians and dilatory actions of the same in making reports to the circuit court are not to be tolerated any longer, according to instructions given attorneys by Judge Hughes this morning. Judge Hughes told the attorneys to notify their clients that they would be cited to appear in court to show cause for the seemingly inexcusable delays.

The law sets out that an administrator of an estate be given one year in which to settle the estate and to make his final report to the court. Should the administrator be unable to make complete settlement in that time it is his duty to appear before Judge Hughes to show reason for the delay. It is then in the discretion of the court whether an extension of time be given.

Matters of guardianship are somewhat different. Guardianships do not expire until the wards are of age. This does not mean, however, that the guardian does not have to report on the guardianship until the ward's age and manager of his own affairs. The law requires that the guardian shall report to the court the condition of the guardian's property every two years during the tenure of his trust.

Heretofore, guardians and administrators have done just about as they pleased but such conditions are to be stopped immediately. Unless they report to the circuit court they will be cited to appear and make explanations. And, another commendable change made by Judge Hughes this morning, was the announcement that hereafter all such reports must be placed on the court docket and made a part of the record. Notices are being sent to delinquent guardians and administrators notifying them to report at once.

MRS. McHUGH SUES FOR DIVORCE AND ALIMONY

The Indianapolis Star gives the following concerning a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Mary McHugh, formerly Miss Mary Marsh of Limestone: "William T. McHugh, 2201 North Meridian street, son of the late Mrs. Mary McHugh, and said to be worth almost $500,000, was sued Friday in Superior Court, Room 1, by his wife, Mrs. Emma McHugh. Mrs. McHugh alleged she feared that her husband might do her violence and obtained a temporary restraining order from Judge Orblison forbidding her husband to molest her in any way.

"Mrs. McHugh's present address was not given in the complaint, and her attorneys professed ignorance of where she is. Acquaintances said they would not be surprised if Mrs. McHugh had or would return to her former home in Terre Haute, in view of the fact that especially a member of the firm of McNutt, Sanders and McNutt of that city was in court when the temporary restraining order against McHugh was granted. Mrs. McHugh's maiden name was Marsh.

"The complaint says that McHugh has taken a very violent dislike to his wife and for more than five years has treated her cruelly. She avers that he threatened her with violence, and Aug. 27, told her to leave their home at 2201 North Meridian street or he would kick her out. According to the complaint McHugh told his wife that he would give her an allowance of $21 a week, but she would have to leave his house. He owns about $300,000 in notes, bonds, mortgages, stocks and real estate, the complaint says. Mr. and Mrs. McHugh were married June 1, 1896, and separated last Wednesday.

"Jock C. Ruckelshaus, one of his attorneys, also said that there would be no statements at the present time from McHugh's side. As far as their acquaintances were concerned, the action was a surprise. Ruckelshaus said he believed.

"McHugh's father was the late James F. McHugh, a state senator in 1856 and 1859 and a prominent Democratic politician of the state for years.

"McHugh inherited much of his mother's property at her death about two years ago. Although the complaint places his property values at $300,000, friends say he received an estate worth $500,000. Some of the property is near Illinois and Maryland streets."

SAYS COMPANY IS INSOLVENT

STOCKHOLDER IN BAINBRIDGE
CANNING COMPANY FILES PETITION FOR RECEIVER FOR INSOLVENT.

ALLEGED DEBTS ARE $2,000

Alleging that the Bainbridge Canning Company is insolvent, that many of its debts are past due and that the company's assets fall far below its liabilities, John Curran, a stockholder, this morning filed suit in the circuit court asking for a receiver for the company. Lyon & Peck are Mr. Curran's attorneys.

The petition says the company owes $2,000 and that the board of directors are making no effort to pay the debts, many of them past due. The petition further sets out that the company has a large cop of fruit and vegetables contracted for and that the contracts for the delivery of the goods have been made. These contracts can be filled at a good profit, it says. Therefore, the petition avers, a receiver should be appointed and authorized to continue the operations of the plant, and that the money derived therefrom and the money from the sale of the plant be distributed among the creditors.

STRIKING MOTORMAN HELD

Believed by Police to Know Something of Wire Cutting.

The Star Monday morning said that "John Lingenfelter, 28 years old, of Mooresville, Ind., formerly employed as a motorman on the Martinsville interurban line, was arrested Sunday night by Detectives Radamacher and Sullivan, who believe he may be able to throw some light on the cutting of wires south of the city after the traction employees' strike was declared. Lingenfelter was charged with loitering and is being held under $1,000 bond. He is alleged to have been in an automobile party of strikers suspected of being responsible for the wire cutting."

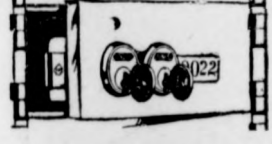

The ladies of the Foreign Missionary Society of College Avenue church will give a social tea Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Gobin on Bloomington street. A delightful musical program has been arranged. The friends of the organization are invited.

WOMEN ENGAGE IN BATTLE ROYAL

FISTIC ENCOUNTER BETWEEN
DAN ELLIOTT AND MRS. OLA
HARBISON RESULTS IN ASSAULT AND BATTERY AFFIDAVIT.

RESULT OF GOSSIP, IT IS SAID

Mrs. Dan Elliott, who lives on East Franklin street, and her neighbor Mrs. Ola Harbison, engaged in a fist encounter Monday afternoon and as a result this morning Mrs. Elliott filed an affidavit for the arrest of Mrs. Harbison on the charge of assault and battery. The affidavit was filed in Squire Frank's court. Mrs. Harbison it is said, has gone to Indianapolis and this afternoon could not be located.

The quarrel, it is said, resulted from gossip concerning Mrs. Harbison. It is charged that she went to the home of Mrs. Elliott and made an attack on the latter. In the prosecutor's office this morning, Mrs. Elliott bore numerous marks of the conflict, including several bruises on her face and a torn skirt. The trouble occurred about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

FOREST NOTES.

It has been discovered that the waste from dogwood shuttle-blocks can profitably be made into handles for steel knives and forks.

Contrary to popular belief, forest fires seldom travel more than 2 or 3 miles an hour. Even in extreme cases it is questionable whether they burn at a rate of more than 5 to 10 miles an hour.

Uncle Sam's forest rangers require that permanent camp sites within the forests shall be kept in sanitary condition. The ubiquitous tin can must be buried, and waste paper burned when a camp is left.

More than 3,000 small logging operators now buy national forest timber; at least 25,000 persons, settlers, miners, stockmen, and others obtain timber from Uncle Sam's big woodlot for their own use free of charge.

The forests of Corsica, the little island upon which Napoleon was born, are managed by the French government. They produce lumber, firewood and turpentine, and all parts of the tree are more closely utilized than in America.

WITNESS AFTER WITNESS
IN GREENCASTLESuch Evidence Our Readers Cannot Dispute.

As we take up the Daily Herald and Herald-Democrat week by week, we are struck by hearty, unmistakable way in which witness after witness speaks out as Mr. Matkin does here. If these people were strangers living miles away, we might take little notice of them. But they are not. They are our neighbors living among us. Their word is too easily proven to admit of any doubt. They speak out in the hope that their experience may be a guide to others.

William W. Matkin, carpenter, 421 E. Washington St., Greencastle, Ind., says: "A number of years ago I was in a railroad wreck and my back and kidneys were injured. After that I suffered from pains in my loins and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, causing me annoyance. I tried different remedies and treatments but was not helped until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel better from the first and I was soon relieved. I have no objection to my name being used in the local papers recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Hints to Beauty
Seekers

As the case of tan, the adage holds true that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." The skin should be protected as much as possible, to prevent these troubles. If your skin tans easily, it should be protected first by using some cold cream and then dusting with a pure powder. A liberal amount of cold cream should be dabbed on and carefully wiped off with a sterilized gauze. Both butter-milk and lemon juice are excellent for taking off tan. Squeeze the juice from a lemon into half a glass of butter-milk and apply with a soft cloth several times daily. Always use cold cream afterward. Fresh butter-milk, used as if it were water, taken off tan better than almost anything that is known. It should be applied freely and allowed to dry in.

Bad circulation and weak muscles are to blame for an excessively oily condition of the scalp. For poor circulation, scalp massage is a sovereign remedy. In fact massage of the scalp is absolutely necessary to keeping it in good condition. It should be done with the tips of the fingers, thoroughly and vigorously every night, and every portion of the scalp should be moved free from the skull. In this way the sluggish circulation is aroused.

There are numerous causes of indigestion. Sometimes the trouble is in the stomach, again in the intestines. A small pinch of bicarbonate of soda, in hot water, thoroughly dissolved, will in most cases prove helpful. Golf is an excellent exercise to cure indigestion. Every sluggish part of the body is stirred by the game of golf, and this, real and imaginary, drop off until after a few months on the links, new blood, new muscles, and a clear head come as a natural consequence. If you do not have time for golf every day, try the following exercises: Take your place before an open window and inhale a deep breath while you slowly count six. Hold your breath and spring from standing position with the feet well separated, and at the same time raise the arms until they are poised over your head. Exhale slowly with the finger tips, applying either plain olive oil or vaseline.

Try the following exercises for your sluggish liver: Stand erect, with the arms hanging naturally at the sides. Throw the left arm over the head and bend the body at the waist as far over to the right as you can go. The right arm of the hanging right arm should touch the floor. Reverse the exercise and bend to the left, the right arm over your head. Repeat several times. Walking is an excellent exercise for a sluggish liver and it is also helpful in reducing flesh.

To reduce your lips rub the following astringent ointment into them night and morning: Melt one ounce of cold cream in a double boiler, using no more heat than is required to keep the mass in a fluid state. Add one gram of tannin (in powder) and one gram of chopped alkanet root, and let it steep for five hours. Strain through cheesecloth into a jar and stir until cool.

To remedy excessive perspiration of the face apply the following lotion several times a day: Six ounces of rose-water, two ounces of elderflower water, one-half ounce of tincture of benzoin, and ten grains of tannic acid.

A simple method for destroying vermin in the head is to soak the scalp and hair thoroughly with tincture of larkspur, taking care that none gets into the eyes. This should be done at night, tying the head in a towel. In the morning shampooing is done, and that night another application of larkspur, following with a thorough shampoo. Two applications are usually enough to destroy them entirely. Larkspur is poison if taken internally.

Soda or alum baths are excellent for reducing the flesh. Throw a handful of alum or ordinary washing soda into a tub of water and sit in it for about ten minutes. This is said to dissolve the globules of fat. Then when you get out of the tub use a rough Turkish towel and rub your flesh until it tingles all over. Turkish baths are highly beneficial, but injurious if kept up too continuously. Once a week with daily hot bathing is wiser.

One of the simplest methods of overhauling the nail biting habit is to anoint the finger tips with a bitter liquid. Have this solution made up and apply several times daily after washing the hands. One gram quinine sulphate, one ounce water and one dram extract of quassa. This solution does not discolor the nails, but it does leave a little deposit which is exceedingly bitter and disagreeable to the taste. If you bite your nails, it is well to manure them thoroughly once a day and give them a little care each day. The secret of conquering the habit is to make the nails too attractive to disfigure.

It takes time to reduce one's flesh. Diet and exercise are the only methods that one can use with any degree of satisfaction and success.

Pimples are usually caused by careless bathing or improper diet. Cleanse the face well every night, using a good cleansing cream, warm water and a pure soap. Anything that promotes normal activity of the skin is helpful both in removing and preventing blemishes. Remember, however, that massage is not good for pimples. Such treatment makes the trouble worse. Do not eat excessive quantities of candy or other sweets, oatmeal, doughnuts, cakes, rich pastry, fried meats, and other indigestible foods. After excluding sugar and starch from your diet for a time, I think the pimples will disappear. When the pimples come to a head, open them with a fine needle which has been dipped in boiling water, press out the matter, then apply a healing, soothing paste.

Here is the recipe for a good tonic for the eyebrows: One ounce of yellow vaseline and eight drops each of oils of lavender and rosemary. After washing the face smooth the eyebrows carefully with an eyebrow brush, upon which a drop of the tonic has been placed. Yellow vaseline is one of the best hair growers. This tonic is for your brows, but do not use it on your lashes; you will need only the yellow vaseline on them.

An application of hot vinegar to the hair and scalp will rid the head of nits.

To reduce the flesh on your face, try vigorous massage, using a good cold cream.

The most stubborn and common of facial blemishes are blackheads. As a rule they flourish in great numbers on the chin, forehead, nose, and side of nose; sometimes they spread to the cheeks and appear on other parts of the body. Blackheads are sometimes caused by a derangement of the general health or a disorder of one or more organs. If your health is not good, consult a reliable physician who will be able to cure, or at least correct the cause as far as is possible, for local applications amount to little when the trouble comes from within.

A more frequent cause of the little pests is careless bathing. Unless the impurities are removed from the pores every day, sooner or later they will form the foundation of a blackhead. The face should be thoroughly cleansed every night, using warm water, a pure soap, and a cleansing cream. Do not try to expel the blackheads by force. This merely tends to irritate the skin and bruise it. The finger nails are poisonous and should never be employed under any circumstances.

A small amount of olive oil to correct torpidity of the liver will not cause an increase of flesh. If you are showing a tendency to the dread obesity begin preventive treatment in time. Practice the exercises faithfully and do not overeat. The chief trouble with women who gradually and surely increase in weight is they are apt to have a large appetite. Therefore, do not eat as much as you want. One of the best rules is to omit a meal now and then. Being hungry is often a habit.

Merely washing the face with soap and water will not keep blackheads from forming in the pores of your skin.

Before using soap and water apply a cleansing cream, going over the entire face with a rotary motion around up, and out. Massage for ten minutes, then remove the excess of cream with a soft cloth, and the result will be frankly embarrassing. This will soften the pores so that the rest of the dirt will readily come out when soap and water are applied.

The condition of the hair depends largely on the condition of the body, and if your general health is good, your hair is pretty apt to be likewise. So before you apply a tonic to restore the light and life to your dreaded tresses, look to your general bodily health. If your blood is impoverished your hair will be dry and brittle and you must treat the blood, not the hair, for such a condition. Hair tonic should be applied direct to the scalp, not poured all over the hair. You want to get at the roots, not the ends. Part the hair from the forehead to the nape of the neck, dip the fingers into the tonic and massage it in the length of the part. Now make a new part, dip the fingers in the tonic again, massage into the part, and keep on that way until you feel that you have pretty well covered the entire scalp. Then massage the whole scalp until it tingles with new life.

In some months tartar accumulates in spite of the most careful daily attention. In such cases the dentist should be consulted, for decay soon sets in and the breath becomes offensive. A good rule is to visit the dentist at least twice a year, even though the teeth appear to be in good order. This attention, together with careful daily cleansing, will keep the mouth in perfect condition.

In no way is more injury done to the teeth than by the natural acid in the mouth. This acid or acids act quickly upon the enamel, bringing cavities as well as yellowness. To prevent any tendency to acidity. A mouthful of the milk of magnesia should be taken every night before retiring, allowing it to penetrate into every nook and cranny of the mouth.

Here is the formula for a satisfactory paste for tinting the lips: One ounce of sugar, one ounce of oil, fifteen grains of balsam of Peru, five grains of alkanet root, five drops of oil of cloves. Warm the oil in a double boiler at a gentle heat—do not let it boil—and in this steep the alkanet root until the liquid is a deep rose color. Pass through a coarse strainer to remove the pieces of root, and when the oil is slightly cooled add the balsam. Let this mixture settle for a moment, then pour off the clear portion, to which add the oil of cloves. This amount will fill a good sized jar. It is safe to use and is healing to the lips as well as giving them a pretty rose tint.

To Clean Steel

When steel becomes rusty rub it with a piece of emery paper that has been dipped in turpentine. Polish with a fresh piece of emery paper and you will be delighted with the result.

Apricot Ice Cream

Our family claims to have invented apricot ice cream, and I never tasted it elsewhere. It is easy to make and requires no cooking. Make it in this proportion: One cup mashed apricots, one cup sugar, one cup cream. Freeze the cream first, over open and add the sugar and the apricots, which have been put through a sieve or fruit press. Then finish freezing. It is so rich that a sherbet glass full is sufficient for each person. It is a most beautiful color—pinkish orange.

Bar-le-duc

Three quarts ripe red currants, three quarts granulated sugar, one jelly glass water. Let currants and sugar stand over night. In the morning add honey and boil twenty-five minutes. Pour into small jelly glasses and cover with paraffin when cold.

CONSORT FOR WHEAT.

It's a Mighty Fine Grain, but the Northwest Farmers Want More Bushels.

Spokane, Wash.—Scientists of prominence are searching the grain belts of the Pacific slope and Intermountain country to secure a proper consort for Queen Bluestem, the royal wheat of the inland empire and the northwest. The success of the quest will mean millions of dollars annually to farmers in the western country. The grain is higher in protein than other wheats; it makes more flour because of increased gluten values; consequently, it sells at from two to four cents more than the next best varieties.

Turkey red wheat has been combined with bluestem at the experimental station farm in connection with the Washington State College at Pullman and produced this year 50 bushels the acre. The milling qualities are high, the only drawback being that the wheat is dark.

Bluestem is not as prolific in yield as red Russian or the hybrid wheats, which produce from 25 to 40 bushels the acre. Eighteen to 25 bushels an acre has been made in the Big Bend district, west of Spokane, where, if it can be used as a hybrid, the production would be increased from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 bushels annually.

Prof. Olson, who originated the new hybrid, called turkey-bluestem, and exhibited specimens at recent fairs, has not distributed any of the seed to farmers, as other tests are to be made. This also is true of scores of other hybrids developed at the state college.

"Few persons in the cities realize the importance of the wheat and other 'investigations' carried on by experimental stations," said Arthur Wonseller, "but the farmers of the west are watching the work with interest. Just as the advantageous promotes the welfare of the nations concerned so the proper mating of the varieties of wheats will benefit not only the people of the northwest, but all over America."

HID RING IN MOUTH.

Woman Finally Obligated to Drop It After Talking Four Hours.

St. Louis, Mo.—After Mrs. Jule Lambert Allen had talked to Detective Chief Allender four hours, a diamond ring valued at $500 dropped from her lips. She had been holding it between her cheek and her back teeth.

Mrs. Allen confessed then, according to Allender, that she stole the ring in Kansas City. She was arrested on a telegram from Kansas City. Long practice as a saxophone player she confided to Allender gave her the muscular power and dexterity to keep the ring concealed in her mouth.

SLOT METER A LIFE-SAVER.

Shuts Off Flow of Gas That Was Overcoming a Man.

Wilmington, Del.—John J. Barden, aged 58 years, was found unconscious in his room from the effects of illuminating gas by his sister, who was attracted by the smell of gas.

The gas jet beside his bed had been opened during the night, but the fact that the family failed to drop a quarter in the slot meter, saved Barden's life, for it shut off the flow of gas in time. Dr. E. L. Rogers revived the man after several hours' hard work.

Pardons Whole Militia.

Frankfort, Ky.—Because Governor Willson says disorderly elements in some Kentucky counties have such influence and power that they "might hereafter institute criminal proceedings against officers and members of the State Guard for acts in obedience to orders of the Governor" during the Night Rider troubles of the past four years, a blanket pardon was proclaimed for all militiamen for any offense committed while on Night Rider guard. Governor Willson's term expired on the day he issued the pardon.

Saved by Good Reputation.

Media, Pa.—Walter Allen and Frank A. Hudson were tried before Judge Johnson on the charge of stealing a bale of hay from the sheds of Peter Carey, Chester. Allen tried to place the blame of the larceny on Hudson, but the jury convicted Allen and acquitted Hudson on his past good reputation. Allen was sentenced to nine months in jail.

Chops Off Baby's Fingers.

Atlantic City, N. J.—"Charlie, put your hand on the block," said George Williams, 8 years old, to his 3-year-old brother. The keen-edged ax was already descending as the baby obeyed the command. The blade clipped off three of his fingers and mutilated the fourth.

Holds Up and Robs Woman Jeweler.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—At the point of a revolver, a negro highwayman held up Mrs. Mary Friedman, proprietor of a jewelry store, and escaped with a tray of gold watches. A crowd went in pursuit of the negro, who eluded capture in the yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Gold Teeth for Highwaymen.

Spokane, Wash.—Frank Stowell, a rancher of Spangler, Wash, was held up here by two men and robbed of $120. The robbers noticed his gold-filled teeth and tried out two of them. They overlooked a roll of bills in Stowell's overcoat pocket, amounting to $750.

HIGH PRICES DUE TO COLD STORAGE

Secretary Wilson Recommends
Publicity of Amount of Food
Held for Higher Prices

CROP PRODUCTION AND VALUE

Consumer Pays a Dollar of Which the Farmer Gets Fifty Cents
—Who Gets the Rest is the Question.

Washington, D. C.—"The consumer pays a dollar for food; the farmer gets less than 50 cents of it. Who gets the rest?" That is a question which Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture asked in his annual report. The secretary does not attempt to answer it. He does explain in some detail the results of an investigation his department has just concluded into the effect of cold storage on the wholesomeness and cost of food. His investigation leads him to recommend publicity for the amount of food in cold storage, just as the department now gives publicity to the condition of crops from month to month.

Instead of food remaining in storage for longer than a year or two years, as a rule, the secretary declares that his investigation showed that "receipts into cold storage are entirely or very nearly exhausted by the deliveries out of cold storage within ten months."

Long storage is the exception, the secretary asserts. Warehouse men explained to the department that excessively long storage was due to law-suits and other circumstances of an uncommercial nature. The cost of storage, including storage charge, interest, and insurance, is considered as a barrier to very long storage.

Cold storage, the secretary reports, has raised the cost of living by increasing the annual price level for butter and eggs. The secretary says that an examination of the record of prices gives a "suspicion" that there has been much speculation in some years by the men who keep commodities in cold storage.

He refers to "an apparent mistake" of the storage men in overestimating the consumption of eggs by the public at exorbitant prices last winter, with the result that in the spring the storage men had to sell eggs at remarkably low prices and send abroad the largest amount of eggs ever exported in order to get rid of the supply. The secretary declares that the warehouse men ought to be required to send to Washington each month the amount of commodities placed in storage so that the public may be able to judge of the future trend of prices.

The secretary declares that "while the total values of the crops in 1911 are not so high as in 1910, there is great abundance for all purposes." For the first time in many years the total value of farm products has declined from that of the preceding year.

HOLDS EARTH IS FLAT.

Boston Man Offers $1,000 for Proof That He Is Wrong.

Boston, Mass.—A reward of $1,000 awaits the person who can prove to the satisfaction of Charles W. Morse of Brookline that the earth is round. The money is on deposit in a Boston bank.

Morse says he has proved by scientific principles that the sun revolves around the earth.

Ships sailing around the earth cannot drop over the edge, he explains, because of the immense ice barrier which surrounds the habitable portion of the earth, which is in the shape of a flat circle.

Court Surgery for Smiles.

Media, Pa.—Police Sergeant John O'Toole, Patrolman Edward Donaldson and Constable A. L. Pierce, of Chester, were late in arriving in Court, where they were wanted as witnesses in a criminal case. Judge Broomall issued an attachment and as they filed into the Court room they were arraigned. They smiled, until Judge Broomall said: "These three men are in the hands of the Sheriff. Take your seats."

Find Kitten in Mail Sack.

Leominster, Mass.—When Fred A. Rainville, clerk at the post office, opened the New York and Chicago mail sack thrown off a train out of Albany, he found a black kitten. The sack was last locked up in Albany. After being fed a saucer of milk it went to playing friskily. The clerk kept the kitten for a mascot.

Scolded Girl Kills Self.

Columbus, Ohio.—After a quarrel with her mother, Pauline Orahood, 15, swallowed carbolic acid at her home and died within half an hour. Her mother reprimanded the girl, who was a telephone operator, for dishonesty, charging that she had failed to repay a loan of 60 cents.

Minutes Mean Dollars
IN TREATING ANIMALS

Doubtless you know the danger of delayed treatment of colic and other diseases. You also realize that wrongly applied remedies are often worse than no treatment at all. In other words, not to diagnose a disease accurately may prove fatal. Every owner should be able to recognize an ailment and give correct treatment at the first symptoms. Prompt action is of great service in treating horses.

Minutes mean dollars. Of course proper treatment is always necessary. That is just why Humphrey's 500 page Veterinary Manual will prove so valuable to you. It is by F. Humphrey, M.D., V.S., and teaches how to diagnose and give proper treatment. This book will save you hundreds of dollars and costs you nothing. It will be sent absolutely free on request to any farmer in order to introduce Humphrey's Veterinary Remedies. Remember, it is absolutely free. You do not have to order any remedies to secure the book. A direct Humphrey's Homeopathic Medicine Company, 18 William Street, New York City. This is a splendid opportunity to obtain a veterinary treatise that you should have in your library. As a reference work you will find it invaluable. To have it in the time of need will be worth many dollars, whereas it will cost you but a postcard by writing for it now.

"DEAD" BY GAS, IS REVIVED.

The Pulmotor Used on David Haas with Success After His Heart Ceased Beating.

Chicago, Ill.—Physicians the world over are interested in a report emanating from this city, that persons asphyxiated by gas have been revived after physicians had declared them to be in a state of death. David Haas, whom a physician described as being "practically dead," and whose heart had ceased to beat, was revived with an apparatus known as the pulmotor. He says he felt no ill effects from the gas or the use of the pulmotor.

Haas is the fifth person in Chicago to have been restored after death, according to physicians, had taken place. In fifteen other cases life was preserved where persons were beyond the possibility of medical aid from gas poisoning. The medical fraternity here was greatly interested. There was a discussion in progress as to whether it will be possible to restore life in the bodies of persons drowned if prompt action is taken.

Haas was found apparently asphyxiated in his room, in the home of Mrs. C. E. McElroy. Three friends worked over him three hours in vain in the hope of reviving him. Dr. J. Lewis was summoned. He said Mr. Haas was, medically speaking, dead. He said he would experiment, nevertheless, with a pulmotor, and sent for one. In three hours the dead man was sitting up in bed conscious. His friends were dumfounded.

The pulmotor is a simple contrivance. It consists of a tank holding oxygen under a pressure of 3,000 pounds to the square inch. It had a pump and a valve for reducing the pressure to two pounds to the square inch.

Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young women in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers.

Good Voice to Be Prized.

A soft, well-modulated voice is of far greater assistance in the world, even in the marriage market, than personal beauty. Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. NEEDLES FLEW FOR MINISTER

Sewing Society of Thirty Women Invaded Home of Bachelor Clergyman

THEY MENDED ALL THE LINEN

Socks Darned and Clothing Repaired for Their Pastor by Feminine Parishioners of Chicago Church—Merely a Spontaneous Raid.

Chicago, Ill.—Mountains of neatly darned socks, shirts and other male attire—the property of Rev. W. A. Gustin, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, testify to the most practical work ever accomplished by a church sewing circle.

The minister blushes and refuses to discuss the incident. The women who wielded the needles are equally reticent when questioned about the affair. The facts came out, however, in spite of them.

The apartments of the minister, a bachelor, were raided by the women who make up the church sewing circle one afternoon recently, and every available article that might yield to the bethimble finger was worked upon, over and through.

The raid on the minister's quarters, No. 2119 South Lawndale avenue, was not the result of anybody's suggestion. It simply was the spontaneous outgrowth of inventive minds. The women gathered in Mrs. H. C. Quigley's house at noon without a definite idea as to what practical reform should be worked with their needles.

The conversation after a few minutes turned to the minister. It was mentioned that he was a bachelor. Also, that he had been at the church just a year and was without a housekeeper or woman relative who might look after the little repairs that even a minister must have. Then came the inspiration.

"Let's go over to his house, seize his socks and other clothing and repair them," came from eight voices simultaneously.

The minister protested mildly, but when he recalled the years' accumulation of unmended underclothing, pajamas and shirts he ceased to remonstrate. He went to a wardrobe and brought them forth—more unmended attire than the women had seen in many months.

It was an entire afternoon's job, but they accomplished it. As they were about to depart Rev. Mr. Gustin, with true Canadian hospitality, brought forth a great teapot and tea "cozy," cakes and refreshments prepared or purchased by himself.

The luncheon gave just a suspicion that a member of the invading party must have played traitor. It looked as if the minister had been told of the intended raid.

"Well," said the blushing Mr. Gustin, when questioned about the affair, "it is a practical thing that must be done for a minister as well as any other man. However, I don't feel like discussing the incident."

Back to the Farm

HOW THINGS HAVE changed! In our young days The farmer won Our stunted praise; We scorned to reap The burdened grain, We saw with smiles The country swain.

Those jaunts aloft On scented hay, 'Tis trolley cars Usurped the way; Those husking bees With her, you know, Before the days Of picture show.

We city folk In dirt and roar Scorned joys like these As on we tore; "First give us gold, With fashion next, Farewell the farm." That was our text.

How things have changed! The farmer's grain Is husheled ere It leaves the plain, In autos come His crops from field, By science coaxed To triple yield.

He revels in His private car; We wonder where Our nickles are; His son's the lad Of football fame, Shelby, of Yale. You've heard the name.

His wife's aboard, His daughters, too; We're looking at The same old view. "First give us gold, With fashion next, Back to the farm." That's now our text.

To Clean White Felt

A quick and effective way to clean white felt hats so much worn now is to make a paste of flour and gasoline, rub it into hat, and hang in the air. When dry it will look just like new, with all dust and finger marks gone.

Corned Beef Suggestion

In cooking corned beef, select the day before you want to use it; cover it with cold water; let it remain until next morning. Boil and serve and you will never cook any other way.

Canadian Mustard Pickles

One quart large cucumbers chopped (not too fine), one quart of whole small cucumbers, one quart large onions chopped, one quart small onions whole, two heads of celery chopped, one cauliflower cut fine, three strong green peppers, and three sweet green peppers chopped. Put each in separate dishes and cover with hot brine and let stand over night; drain off and mix together; add one-quarter ounce of celery seed, two cups brown sugar, one-half gallon elder vinegar, one-quarter ounce white mustard seed. Put all in a kettle and scald five minutes. Make a paste of one-third cup of flour, one-eighth pound of mustard, one-half cup of vinegar; mix with vinegar and stir into pickles slowly at first, then stir fast until they boil two or three minutes.

Calf's Foot.

One calf foot, one quart of milk, one small onion, half a head of celery, small piece of lemon peel, one ounce of butter, one ounce of flour, slice of lemon, chopped parsley. Put the prepared foot in a stewpan with enough milk to cover, add the onion, celery and lemon peel, cook gently till the meat is tender enough for the bone to be removed, place it on a dish, and keep it warm. Strain the gravy, thicken it with the butter rolled in flour, season with pepper, salt, and a few grains of powdered mace, and serve. Garnish with slices of lemon and chopped parsley.

Crabapple Jelly Hint

Wash the apples, cut off stems and all bad spots, then put in large enough kettle and barely cover with water; cook slowly till all ingredients are soft and tender, then strain through a clean flour sack, measure the juice, and add equal amount of sugar and (one-half peck of apples) use one-half a lemon that has been washed and sliced into the juice, and boil together about one-half hour, or till it thickens on a saucer, when set aside to cool. This will make it a clear dark red and a lovely flavor.

Purple Cabbage Pickle

Chop one gallon of purple cabbage fine, put on one-half cup of salt. Put in stone jar. Over this pour boiling water. Cover and let stand until cold; drain well through a cloth. Again pour on boiling water, drain as before. Over this pour two quarts of boiling vinegar to which two cups of sugar has been added. Cover and let stand until cold.

Red Haw Jelly

Thorn Apple or Red Haw Jelly—Take the red haws, cut off blossom end, and wash and cover with water; cook till soft; put through jelly bag. Then add the juice of one lemon to each quart juice and two-thirds as much sugar as fruit-juice, and boil till it will thicken when a little is taken out on a saucer. This is fine. Red haws grow wild in the woods and are very little known as food, but they make the most delicious jelly.

Aristocratic Dogs Have Swell Funeral

MISS JENNIE CROCKER.

of San Francisco, who conducted what is believed to have been the biggest dog funeral in history.

Her Boston terriers, Dick Dazzler and Wonderland Duchess, each valued at $5,000, occupied the caskets, and in the funeral cortege walked over one hundred other full-blooded canines with their mistresses.

The value of the dogs in the procession is said to have been over $100,000. The dead dogs were buried with great formalities. They were placed in concrete coffins fashioned in Egyptian style, which took three days to make. Each canine mourner wore a ribbon of black crepe around his neck during the ceremonies, and the mistress also was dressed in black.

Christmas Watermelon

Choose a large, firm watermelon, freshly picked as possible, giving the stem a thorough coat of varnish. Seal up the stem end with sealing wax and place in a cool, dark place, the cellar preferred, until the holidays. Chill before serving. To those desiring something choice plug the melon twelve hours before serving and pour in a bottle of wine (sweet) or champagne. If the melon was firm and sound before treatment, it will be found when cut for Christmas as firm and fresh as the day it was taken from the vines.

Shrimp and Cucumber

Break shrimp in pieces and marinate in French dressing. At serving time add an equal quantity of chilled cubes of cucumber, mix with mayonnaise dressing. Serve on lettuce.

Tomato Sauce

One pint of stewed tomatoes, one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, one small onion, one bay leaf, one sprig of parsley, one blade of mace, salt and pepper to taste. Put the tomatoes on the fire with the onion, bay leaf, parsley and mace and simmer slowly for ten minutes. Melt the butter, add to it the flour; mix until smooth. Press the tomatoes through a sieve, add them to the butter and flour, stir continually until it boils; add salt and pepper and it is ready for use.

Johnny Cake

One and one-half cups flour, three tablespoons cornmeal, two tablespoons sugar, one egg, laid size of an egg, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup cold water, little salt; sift sugar, baking powder, and salt with meal and flour, add lard, water, and egg.

Grape Juice

Stem six quarts of grapes and put them over the fire with one quart of water; bring slowly to a boil and strain. Return the juice to the fire, bring again to a boil; bottle and seal while scalding hot.

Mustard Pickles

For 3 jars take 200 small pickles, wash and clean with brush; let set twenty-four hours, dry with a cloth, drop in the jars, cover with the following: One gallon elder vinegar, one cupful of horseradish, one cupful brown sugar, one cupful salt, two tablespoonfuls of mustard seed, two tablespoonfuls of alum; cover over with grape leaves. All this is put over cold. I tried these last year. They kept perfect and the pickles were fine.

Green Tomato Pie

Line a pie with a rich pie crust, then peel and slice thin three good sized tomatoes in the tin, sprinkle with sugar, then grate nutmeg on it, then sprinkle with flour, and lastly add little more sugar; then place on the top layer of the crust and bake in a moderate oven.

Tomorrow Night*TO OBSERVE OCT. 9 AS FIRE PREVENTION DAYFriday, October 9, is to be observed in Indiana as Fire Prevention Day.To this end Governor Ralston has signified his intention of co-operating with the state fire marshal's department in focusing the attention of Indiana for one day, at least, on the subject of fire prevention, by issuing a proclamation to the people of the state.Governor Ralston's proclamation calling attention to Friday, October 9, as Fire Prevention Day, and urging its observance will be issued later but in the meantime plans for the day will be carried forward from the fire marshal's office, all of the marshal's 1,500 assistants, as well as good citizens everywhere, being asked to help make the day a success.Other States Active.This same day has been and will be observed as Fire Prevention Day by many other states. Two years ago at the suggestion of the Indianapolis Trade Association, Indiana, for the first time observed the day. The movement was successful and beneficial in every way but, largely from the lack of some one to take the in-Notice to Contractors.Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Commissioners of Putnam county will receive sealed bids for making alterations and repairs at the county jail of said county, and for new work, alterations and repairs of the county asylum of said county, plans, profiles and specifications of which work are on file in the office of the County Auditor of said county. Said bids will be received up to Sept. 16th, 11 o'clock a. m., 1913. Each bidder must accompany his bid with a bond of double the amount of his bid conditioned that he will enter into contract and perform work in accordance with requirements of plans, profiles and specifications if bid is accepted.C. L. AIRHART, Auditor of Putnam County, Indiana.
It DH Sept 2 11 Vt Sept 5relative, there was no general observance of the day in 1912. From now on it is hoped that the day will be regularly observed each year.One of the large benefits to be gained in the observance of Fire Prevention Day is that of educating the school children in the matter of fire waste and fire prevention. An effort will be made to have exercises appropriate to the day in the schools of the state. These would include patriotic songs, essays and subjects relating to fires and fire prevention and recitations.Inspect and Clean UpAn appeal will be made to the people of Indiana, likewise, to inspect their furnaces and flues on that day,
so that conditions which might later result in a fire, may be ascertained and remedied. An inspection on Fire Prevention Day, before the furnaces have been lighted for the winter, may prevent great losses.The people of Indiana will also be urged to correct other hazardous conditions. They will be asked to remove rubbish that has collected in cellar, out-houses or attics during the summer, and in general, to "clean up."Indiana's fire loss, as roughly estimated from fires reported to the state fire marshal during three months,
may run from $10,000,000 to $12,000-000 yearly. A large part of this loss may be prevented by care and caution. Some experts declare that 60 per cent. of the fire loss is needless.
Friday, October 9, is the anniversary of the great Chicago fire and for that reason the date is peculiarly appropriate.Professor and Mrs. Barnum are cently was held near Mattoon, Ill.Self-Held Bonds.There are practically no bond or stock salesmen in Europe. The traveling bond salesman is an American invention. The small investor in Europe must go to his bank himself and ask for the bond. Moreover he pay the same commission for a hundred dollar bond as for a thousand-dollar bond. Small investors in America should learn to do the same thing.

When they have some money to invest they should not ask their friends or read the Sunday newspaper advertisements, but go on their own accord to a reputable bondhouse or banker.They should ask him for a safe bond, which is secured by first mortgage or is an underlying lien of some railroad or other strong corporation that has paid dividends on its stock for many years. At first they should buy such goods as are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, though they are many good ones that are not. These unlisted ones, however, investors can buy after they have had more experience; in fact the shrewdest investors buy half listed and half unlisted bonds.They should tell the banker they are willing to pay him for the hundred-dollar bond the same commission he would receive—this is usually one dollar and a quarter—for selling a thousand-dollar bond. The peasant of Europe are provided with safe investments that yield well—but they pay the banker for their work; any American investors must be willing to do the same. Americans cannot reduce the cost of living by trying to get something for nothing.—Saturday

Formed to Reduce it 25 Per Cent.

says President Justice.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The cost of food, clothing, coal, and other necessities will be reduced 25 per cent. if the objects of the People's Co-operative Union are realized.Three men conceived a scheme of organizing a gigantic stock company,
the holdings in which, the President predicts, will amount to billions of dollars. Chains of stores are to be operated, factories and industrial plants will be erected, in all of which members will be employed at higher salaries than they are now receiving, and their holdings of stock will be earning dividends.Franklin G. Justice of Clementon, N. J., is the President of the People's Co-operative Union, which is incorporated under the laws of Delaware.
Shares of stock are sold at the par value of $1, to be fully paid and non-assessable.The President said that the projected chain of stores will sell products at market prices, and there will be no attempt to undersell competitors. The profits are to go to the stockholders in the shape of dividends. The stores will sell goods cheaper than any other stores."We will engage in commercial enterprises, most likely in real estate,"
the President said. "We have already bought some real estate, the sale of which, we believe, will enable us to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. on the stock already purchased."NOT FOR LOVE NOR MONEY.Boston Telephone Girls Can't Be Bribed to Give Their Ages.Boston, Mass.—Not even for such allurements as a present of cash and promise of a pension will the young women employed by the local telephone company reveal their ages.
Recently the directors of the company voted a cash present, the amount varying according to age. It was announced that this gift would eventually develop into a pension.One of the young men secretaries was given the task of tabulating the girls by ages. He began his work among the 150 young women employed in the main office. After a few hours of fruitless questioning he reported to the directors that the task was a hopeless one, as not one of the operators would answer the questions as to the date of her birth. The scheme was abandoned.GEESSE ATTACK A FRIEND.Game-keeper Slips While Climbing Fence and Hangs Helpless.Brooklyn, N. Y.—Charles Gunkel, assistant keeper of the birds on the lake in Prospect Park, was attacked recently by a score of Canadian geese. Gunkel was climbing over the six-foot wire fence of the bird inclosure when he slipped, pitched and hung head downward on the inside.
His frightened cries alarmed the geese,
and with loud honks they pecked at his head and face. With arms working like flails he drove them off. It was a half hour before his cries brought Philip Monaghan, a driver,
to his rescue.
